COLORADO.

Shooting at Buena Vista.

BUENA VISTA, June 29. At 1.30 o'clock this afternoon another shooting affair occurred, resulting in the death of one man and probably fatal result to the other. The man killed was a gambler known as Hoodoo Brown. He was shot twice in the breast and killed almost instantly. The other was also a gambler known as Curley Frank, shot in left breast. It is very doubtful if he recovers. The trouble was caused by a dispute over a game of cards.

Death of a Pueblo Citizen.

PUEBLO, June 29. H. A. Stetson, an old and highly esteemed citizen, dropped dead in the street in this city to day. The cause was heart disease.

GENERAL NEWS.

East River Disaster. Continuation of Yesterday's Story.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The steamer could not have been beached sooner. No doubt more bodies not picked up by boats will be found on Long Island shore to-morrow morning, as the wind was blowing in that direction. If the catastrophe had occurred even an hour later, the loss of life would have been frightful. It occurred just at the time when sound steamers, Harlem and other boats, were in the immediate neighborhood. The Seawanhaka was about eleven years old. She was the regular boat running between New York and Roslyn, L. I., calling at White Stone, Great Neck, Sands Point, and Glenwood. She arrives in this city about 9 in the morning and leaves on the return at 4:15 in the afternoon. The passengers on her are generally bankers, business and literary men who live on Long Island and come to the city in the morning, returning in the evening. Frequently lady members of their families and servants accompany them. A regular company managed the boat, but it is said she was run in the interest of four owners whose names are C. A. Dana, L. L. M. Hartow, M. Kirk of Glen Cove and Mr. Endi of Great Neck. Some of the owners had special rooms in the steamer.

The New York Herald gives the following list of dead as far as known:

Mamie Beath, two years old, daughter of the late Judge Beath of Glencove, L. I.

Martha Balet, eight years old, 53d street between 2d and 3rd avenues.

Constantine Cheny, four years of age, No. 2327 2d avenue.

Mrs. Geo. W. Colton, No. 1350 Pacific street, Brooklyn. Drowned.

A colored child of Charley Jones, No. 109 west 26th street.

Miss Mary Reed. Drowned.

A child of Mrs. Shaler, No. 406 west 53rd street. The mother was saved with her other child.

Vanderwater, two years of age, of Glen Cove, Long Island, body not recovered.

An unknown dead male child, eight months old, burned.

A female child one year old, drowned.

A woman forty years old, burned to crisp.

A boy three years of age, drowned.

A German woman and baby eighteen months old, drowned.

The same as the bodies were carried in from the boat and the coffins opened was a heart-rending one. One old gentleman, Mr. Deboise, was frantic with grief, when he identified the body of his son; David H. G. Deboise, of 392 Pacific, Brooklyn. The body of a beautiful young woman about twenty years of age, was identified as that of Mary Reed. The body of a stout lady, about fifty years of age, was supposed to be that of Mrs. Ritchie, of Locust Grove, Long Island. It is reported that there are about fifteen bodies on Randall's Island and a number on Long Island.

The body of a broker named James Hickie, living at Sands Point, Long Island, was thought to have been drowned at Ward's Island, and Lewis Green, of Norwalk, Conn., is reported to be missing. James J. Jeffs, of 86 East Fifty-Second street, ex-assemblyman, was a passenger on the steamer Seawanhaka. He was reported as missing by his friends at police headquarters. Abram P. Skidmore and Edward Watson, of Whitestone, Long Island, the latter a wholesale liquor dealer in either New York or Brooklyn, and five not identified are among the dead. Quite a number are reported missing, and the complete casualties cannot be had to-night.

NEW YORK, June 29. The bodies of Mrs. E. Archenad Bennett and husband, A. B. Bennett, 18 and 20 Liberty street, were identified at the morgue and removed to their late residence in Brooklyn.

Bodies of Mrs. Barber, R. Tucker and Miss Lizzie Shaler, 36 West 53th street, were also identified and removed.

Edwin G. Booth, a lawyer on Liberty street, was a passenger and has not been heard from since the disaster.

Charles E. Oppleby, 155 Broadway, reported lost with his wife, writes both are safe and uninjured.

Constantine Cheny, a child, was brought to the morgue this forenoon and was identified and taken away by its father who lives at 2327 Second avenue.

Susan E. Colton, aged 45, wife of Geo. W. Colton, agent of the Red Star steamship line, is among the dead.

Mary A. Reed, a girl about 27 years old, was identified this morning by a woman who said, with tears in her eyes, Miss Reed was engaged to be married next month and had not a relative in the world. The body is yet at the morgue.

The body of Hilda Rauschenbusch, a German woman aged 34, was laying on the marble slab. Her arms are clasping to her breast the body of an infant child.

Theo. Gauther, a grocer of Sheriff street, Clarence Vanderwalter and an unknown negro were identified. Four bodies were still unclaimed.

COLLEGE POINT, L. I., June 29.—Among the lost from the steamer Seawanahaka last evening, was H. Julius Frank, of Whitestone, L. I., aged 42, of the firm of Frank & Wortut, dry goods dealers. He was a leading citizen and leaves a wife and seven small children. The body was recovered this morning.

NEW YORK, June 29. Among the missing reported late this afternoon are Mrs. Mary Ann Flynn, Hyde avenue and 116th street; H. Hurlburt of Great Neck, L. I., and Israel Bloomindale, east 49th street. Mr. Hurlburt was formerly comptroller of the currency under Secretary Chase and has a brother living in Cincinnati. Mr. Hurlburt went on board the steamer with Miss Brumfield who was saved.

Some terrible sights confronted the reporters at the scene of the wreck this morning. On the starboard side nearly even with the edge was a bed of cinders and iron containing the remains of two human beings. Who they were will probably never be known, for the resemblance was nearer a chunk of burned wood than anything else. Their heads and limbs were welded by the fierce heat into a very small compass. The bodies lay about eight feet apart. On a part of the horizontal boiler, the ordinary position of which was directly underneath the main forward deck, were the bones of a third. How the person got there is a mystery, unless, indeed, he or she fell there through the burning deck, and there met a death a thousand times more horrible than by drowning. Under the mass of ruins that strands out from the hulk it is thought other bodies will be found.

COTTAGE POINT, L. I., June 29. Among those missing who were on board the Seawanhaka who also burned are Wm. Nichols of Sea Cliff, Mrs. D. Meissner of Glenwood, and Edward Wagstaff of Whitestone.

The identified are Mani E. Beach, aged three and a half years, daughter of Mrs. Mani Beach, widow of ex-Judge Beach of King's county; Aaron B. Bennett, aged 57, proprietor of bookbinding manufactory, numbers 18 and 20 Liberty street. He resided at number 88 Vanderbilt avenue; Mrs. Geo. W. Colton, number 1315 Pacific street, Brooklyn. Her husband is agent for the Star Line steamship company, Jacob A. Diller, D.D., rector of St. Luke's Protestant Episcopal church, Clinton avenue, Brooklyn; Thomas Flanagan 417 West 26th street, aged 45, coachman; Julius Frank, 43 years old, well-known dry good merchant of Whitestone, L. I.; Mary Edith Gray, five months old, daughter of Wm. R. Gray, 934 8th avenue; Theo. Gruther, grocer, number 72 Sheriff street, 35 years old; Chas. Hoskcock, colored, waiter in restaurant. The list of missing is large.

Taxing Foreign Capital.

NEW YORK, June 29. The bill taxing foreign bank capital has been signed by Governor Cornell. It provides that every foreign bank or banking firm doing business in this state shall be annually taxed one half of one per cent. on an average, on all sums of money used or employed in this state. Among the principal banks affected by this bill are the Bank of California and Bank of Nevada.

Whittaker's Champions.

CHICAGO, June 29. Emery A. Storrs, of Chicago and B. H. Brewster, of Philadelphia, have volunteered their services as counsel for Cadet Whittaker, in case he asks for a court martial.

Almost Another Disaster.

NEW YORK, June 29. The excursion steamer Long Branch, just after casting off from the dock this morning, when crowded with a Sunday school party on the way to Long Branch, was run into by an off boat and crushed in before the wheel. The boat began to fill, causing great alarm on board among the children and teachers, and making frantic their friends on shore who witnessed the collision. The boat speedily returned to the dock, and all landed in safety, the boat not sinking.

Garfield's Correspondence.

CLEVELAND, June 29.—The Leader will publish the following to morrow: "General Garfield is daily receiving a large number of letters from his friends in all parts of the country, and though he has several secretaries and stenographers at his service, he is unable to answer all promptly. He wishes friends to understand that all letters requiring answers will receive attention as early as possible. He mailed 140 letters this afternoon.

Three Freight Trains Wrecked.

HARRISBURG, June 29. Two freight trains come in collision early this morning at Petersburg on the Pennsylvania R. R. Another freight train, with John B. Crawford engineer and M. A. Shuver fireman, ran into the wreck and both men were instantly killed.

Stager Gordon.

CHICAGO, June 29. Miss Lizzie Stager, daughter of General Anson Stager, of the Western Union, was married this evening to Frank D. Gordon, a merchant of New York. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's father.

Republicans Sure of Indiana.

NEW YORK, June 29. The New York Times special from Washington says: John C. New, of Indianapolis, is now in this city. In response to an inquiry, he said this evening Indiana would surely be carried by the republicans. He remarked that at times during the Cincinnati convention he had feared that the democrats would select a ticket which would give the republicans considerable trouble in his state. Now his anxiety had all disappeared. McDonald would have carried the state, he said, by 2,000 majority, and Hendricks by 10,000, but the treatment which Hendricks received and the selection of English have secured the state to us beyond a doubt.

Stage Robbery.

SALT LAKE, June 29. The stage from Challis, Idaho, was robbed on Saturday night by six convicts, who escaped from the Idaho prison. Seven passengers in the coach, five men and two women, were robbed of all of their valuables, amounting to a few hundred dollars and stripped of their clothing, being left absolutely naked. In that condition they travelled several miles to the next station where sheets and blankets were obtained for covering until they reached the Utah Northern railway Sunday evening.

Census Returns.

CHICAGO, June 29. The supervisor of the census to-night reports that the later returns have so far excelled the estimates that the actual figures in hand at the close of office hours to-night add up within a few hundred of 490,000 as the population of Chicago. The other returns will increase this total, but to what extent is not known.

An Interesting Report.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 29. There has been a rumor here to-day started by a man of prominence, that the governor would be very sure to call an extra session of the legislature to entertain subjects relative to New York city and for such other business as may be brought before it.

It was broadly intimated that such other business meant the consideration of the Potter bill of last session to change the method of electing the electoral ticket, so as to transfer to an election by congressional districts. Some of the republicans strongly favor the idea, but at the governor's chamber nothing has been heard of it. It depends upon the governor to issue the call for an extra session. The result of the passage of the Potter bill, it is conceded, would ordinarily divide up the electoral vote of New York state, so as to give the republicans at least 17 of the 35, but the wisdom of the measure is doubted by many.

Nicaragua Canal Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 29. The full text of the inter-oceanic concession granted by Nicaragua to the American Provisional Society has been secured here. It is signed by Don Adam Cardenas, minister of foreign affairs, and Mr. A. T. Menocal, member and commissioner of the Provisional Society. The concession has been only ratified by the Nicaraguan government and published as a law by the republic. The Provisional Society, under the terms of this concession, obtains the exclusive privilege to construct a ship canal across the territory of Nicaragua.

The canal is to be of sufficient dimensions to accommodate steamers of the largest class, used between Europe and America, and the locks are to be not less than five hundred feet long and twenty-three feet deep. The concession is for 99 years from the date of the opening of the canal for general traffic and at the expiration of that period the Nicaraguan government is to take possession of the canal in perpetuity with the right reserved to the company to lease another 99 years. During the period of the concession, the company is to have the privileges of constructing a railway along the whole or any part of the canal, also such telegraph lines as is deemed necessary for the construction and working of the canal, and their lines shall transmit public messages free of charge. The government of Nicaragua will declare the terminal points, and the canal itself throughout its length to be neutral, and that the transit in case of war between other powers and Nicaragua will be uninterrupted.

FOREIGN.

The International Shooting Match—Americans Victorious.

DOLLYMOUNT, June 29. The weather early this morning looked very threatening, but towards eleven o'clock the wind shifted to the west. It then became cloudy but not threatening, the wind blowing straight on to the targets which was unfavorable for high scoring. The air was tolerably clear and soft. There was considerable display of American and Irish bunting on the way from Dublin. Horses are decorated with evergreens, mottoes etc.

The Irish team fire on targets one and two in squads, thus Ing, Rigby, Wm. Rigby and Milner on target number one, and Fenton, Joynt and Young on target number two. The Americans fire on targets numbers five and six, thus Rathbone, Farrow and Brown on numbers five, and Clark, Scott, and Fisher number six. A detachment of 200 royal Irish constabulary preserve order.

The firing at 800 yards range began at 12 30. The wind had then moderated and the conditions for shooting became more favorable. The result was a tie. The Americans and Irish teams each had 436. In the seventh round the gauge showed increasing wind. The shooting at 800 yards range closed at 1.55. And at 2 38 firing at 900 yards range was begun with wind still blowing straight down the range, but not strong and the light very good. Offers to take six to four on the Americans are the best heard.

The score at the 900 yard range was as follows:

Americans—Clark 75, Scott 69, Fisher 73, Rathbone 75, Farrow 71, Brown 73. Total, 436.

Irish—John Rigby 72, Wm. Rigby 71, Milner 71, Fenton 69, Joynt 71, Young 74. Total, 428.

When the fifth round was fired at 900 yards range betting become six to four against the Irish.

In the 1000 yards the following was the score:

Americans Clark 71, Scott 74, Fisher 69, Rathbone 70, Farrow 69 and Brown 67.

Irish—Rigby John 68, Rigby William 68, Milner 67, Joynt 72, Young 69, Fenton 72.

The following is a summary of the firing at the different ranges:

	Irish.	American.
800 yards	436	436
900 yards	428	436
1000 yards	416	420
Grand Total	1280	1292

When the match was over, cheers were given for the American and Irish teams. Col. Bodine was presented with a handsome bouquet by one of the ladies present. Acknowledging the compliments paid himself, Colonel Bodine said it afforded him pleasure as captain of the American team that they had won. But as a representative rifleman, he felt regret at the result from a sense that the riflemen of Ireland richly deserved the victory this time, because of their exertions to secure the victory and he felt sure the feelings he expressed were the feelings of the American people.

Cheers were given for Earl Cowper who made a short speech. He declared he never expected to see such scoring. He was glad the Irish team took the defeat so good humoredly. Above one thousand persons were on the ground.

The American and Irish teams attended a private banquet given in their honor, by Lord Felton to-night. No toasts were given except the health of the Queen.

There is much complaint at the manner in which the match was conducted, especially that there seemed more desire on the part of the managers, that nobody should pass in front of the Lord Lieutenant than that the audience should be entertained. The press was accommodated fairly.

Demonstration in Favor of Bradlaugh.

LONDON, June 29. From 1500 to 2000 persons were present at Bradlaugh's meeting in Trafalgar Square last night, under the impression that Bradlaugh would proceed to the House of Commons, after making his address. Some thousand of persons who had been attending the meeting in Trafalgar Square rushed down Parliament street to Palace yard and some three or four thousand got into Westminster Hall, but the police charged them and drove them through the gates. Meanwhile several thousand persons had assembled inside the railing. A reinforcement of the police however removed them to the opposite side of the street, in order to clear the way to the house of commons.

End of Jesuitism in France.

PARIS, June 29. The evening journals announce the dissolution of all religious houses have made preparations in the expectation of the action of the authorities to morrow. All doors of religious houses will be closed. The police will be obliged to effect forcible entrance and tear open each individual cell. The Jesuit houses only will be dealt with to-morrow. Up to the present time thirty magistrates have resigned sooner than execute religious decrees. The minister of justice filled their posts without delay.

Waiving the Issue.

LONDON, June 29.—In the house of commons, Sir Stafford Northcote announced he would move the rejection of Premier Gladstone's resolution, providing that all elected members shall be permitted to affirm, who may claim to do so, instead of taking the parliamentary oath.

MILWAUKEE, June 29. The census returns of this city show a population of 118,131, with two districts to hear from.
